FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS, AND RECOMMENDATION

Based on the relevant filings and applicable law, the case should be DISMISSED without prejudice sua sponte for failure to comply with Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(m) by serving the defendants within 90 days.

I. BACKGROUND

On February 2, 2021, the pro se plaintiff filed this action against the defendants and paid the filing fee. (See doc. 3.) By order dated February 3, 2021, he were expressly advised of his duty to timely serve the defendants:

Because he paid the fee, the plaintiff is now responsible for serving each defendant with a summons and a copy of the complaint in this case as provided by Rule 4(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. If a defendant is not served within 90 days after the filing of the complaint, the action is subject to dismissal against that defendant without prejudice. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(m). In addition, Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(l)(1) requires Plaintiffs to file proof of service with the Court unless service is waived. This proof must consist of “the server’s affidavit” if service was not effected by the United States Marshal or a deputy marshal. Id. If the plaintiffs do not file a valid return of service or otherwise show that each defendant was properly served, this action may be dismissed against that defendant.

(See doc. 4.) The order also directed the Clerk of Court to mail the plaintiff summonses and a copy of Rule 4 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. (Id.) The docket reflects that summonses were mailed to him, as well as a copy of Rule 4. (See docs. 4-1, 4-2, 5.)

The plaintiff failed to file a valid return of service on the defendants within 90 days of the filing of the complaint. By order dated May 26, 2021, he was directed to either file valid returns of service, or show cause in writing why service could not be made on the defendants, no later than June 9, 2021. (See doc. 6.) The order expressly stated that if the plaintiff failed to comply with the order, dismissal of the case would be recommended without further notice. The plaintiff failed to respond to the order, and he has filed nothing else in this case since he filed it.

II. ANALYSIS

Because he paid the filing fee, the plaintiff was responsible for serving each defendant with a summons and a copy of the complaint as provided by Rule 4(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. He was required to make proper service on the defendants within 90 days of filing the complaint. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(m). He was also required to file proof of service, unless service was waived. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(l)(1). Proof consists of “the server’s affidavit” when service is not effected by a United States marshal or deputy marshal. Id.

When proper service is not made within 90 days of filing a complaint, an action is subject to sua sponte dismissal without prejudice. Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(m). Dismissal is not proper “if the plaintiff shows good cause for the failure” to properly accomplish service, however. Id. In the Fifth Circuit, courts must allow additional time for service if a plaintiff can establish good cause. Millan v. USAA Gen. Indem. Co., 546 F.3d 321, 325–26 (5th Cir. 2008) (citing Thompson v. Brown, 91 F.3d 20, 21 (5th Cir. 1996)). “[T]o establish ‘good cause’ the plaintiff must demonstrate at least as much as would be required to show excusable neglect, as to which simple inadvertence or mistake of counsel or ignorance of the rules usually do not suffice.” Lindsey v. United States R.R. Ret. Bd., 101

F.3d 444, 446 (5th Cir. 1996) (quoting Peters v. United States, 9 F.3d 344, 345 (5th Cir. 1993)). Courts also typically require “some showing of good faith on the part of the party seeking an enlargement and some reasonable basis for noncompliance within the time specified.” Lambert v. United States, 44 F.3d 296, 299 (5th Cir. 1995). The plaintiff bears the burden to show good cause. Kersh v. Derozier, 851 F.2d 1509, 1512 (5th Cir. 1988).

Even if the plaintiff fails to show good cause, a court has the discretionary power to extend the time for service instead of dismissing the case without prejudice. Millan, 546 F.3d at 325 (citing Thompson, 91 F.3d at 21). Exercise of this discretionary power “may be warranted, ‘for example, if the applicable statute of limitations would bar the refiled action, or if the defendant is evading service or conceals a defect in attempted service.’” Millan, 546 F.3d at 325 (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(m) advisory committee’s note (1993)).

Here, far more than 90 days have passed since the plaintiff filed this action, but he has not accomplished service on the defendants named in his complaint. He was ordered to file a valid return of service or show cause in writing as to why service could not be made on the defendants. Despite the order, the plaintiff has not filed valid returns of service or met his burden to show cause for his failure to properly serve the defendants. Because he has not filed anything else in this case, he has not shown anything that supports the exercise of discretion to provide more time to accomplish service. The docket reflects no additional attempts to accomplish service on the defendants. In fact, there is no indication that the plaintiff ever attempted to serve the defendants. Accordingly, no extension of time is required, and dismissal of the action is warranted. See Caceres-Mejia v. Watson, 718 F. App’x 307, 308–09 (5th Cir. 2018) (per curiam) (finding that the district court did not abuse its discretion in dismissing an action without prejudice for lack of timely service where the plaintiff did not follow state law for service of summons or file the requisite proof to establish that the defendant acknowledged service of process).

III. RECOMMENDATION

This case should be DISMISSED without prejudice sua sponte for failure to comply with Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(m) by serving the defendants within 90 days, and final judgment should be entered unless the plaintiff files valid proof of service for the defendants within the time for objecting to this recommendation, or by some other deadline set by the Court.

SO RECOMMENDED on this 29th day of November, 2021.
